

A Pilgrims Letter Home: The first Thanksgiving

November 30, 1621

Dear: _____
(name)

After a very hard and _____ winter our new (adjective)
friends, the Natives, helped us plant and _____ (verb)
vegetables and _____ in our _____. We (noun) (noun)
had a _____ harvest and are so grateful to (adjective)
our new friends. We had a _____ feast to (adjective)
celebrate our success. We made pumpkin _____, (noun)
_____, _____, and a _____
(noun) (noun) (adjective)
_____ pie. We ate and ate until we could (noun)
not _____. We are grateful for the harvest, (verb)
but most of all we are grateful for our _____ (adjective)
new friends.

Sincerely, Pilgrim _____ (name)